

Mokena insists builder provide sewerage plant

MOKENA — If all went according to schedule at the regular meeting of the Mokena village board Tuesday night two pre-annexation petitions were submitted to the board.

One of them dealt with the Doogan farm south of Mokena where Sidney Bloom and Tom Phillips are planning a development. A copy of the proposed agreement was presented to the village board at its meeting Nov. 14 by Larry Wennlund, attorney for the developers. Copies of the agreement were made and passed out to members of the village board for study. No action was expected on the proposals this week, however.

The Plan Commission must also pass on the agreement following a public hearing. The village board must also hold a public hearing. Such hearings, it was said, will likely be held in December.

There are condominiums, townhouses, apartment houses and some single family residences called for in the plans. The village board is on record requiring a sewage treatment plant in the plans.

At a previous discussion of the plans between the developers and the board Mayor Will Tuttle informed them that unless a sewage treatment plant along Hickory Creek was provided for in the plans there would be no use in presenting the plans because the board was firm in its insistence that such a facility be built.

There was to have been a sewage treatment plant built as part of the Owens Land Trust development of approximately 300 acres adjacent to the Doogan farm on the west. The proposed development and the sewage disposal plant never materialized and this left the village in considerable difficulties with the then newly annexed residents of Brightwood.

Brightwood wanted sewers and the village promised them. The original plan called for a hook-up of the Brightwood system with the treatment plant that was to have been a part of the Owens development.

When this failed to materialize the village embarked upon a plan to join the proposed Brightwood sewers with the existing treatment plant on North Wolf Road. This will cost more than would have been the case under the original plan and the Brightwood people are quite unhappy.

So any development in this area now must have a sewage treatment plant as a first order of business, the village board has decreed.

Also scheduled for presenting to the village board Tuesday night was a pre-annexation agreement by Robert Brumund, attorney for Mr. and Mrs. Richard Plattner covering the 12 lots they own on the west side of Wolf Road, north of Hickory Creek.

A poll of the village board Nov. 14, indicated the members were willing to waive sidewalks and accept oil and chip instead of bituminous surfaced streets. They also indicated they were agreeable to the use of four-mantle gaslights instead of electric lights.

The Plattners indicated they were prepared to lay sewer and water lines that they can make use of when city services are available. Meanwhile they will have to use septic systems and wells.

The village has the authority now to install about 400 feet of six-inch water main on Nonness Street between Anna and Center Streets at a cost of approximately $2,500. Approval of the improvement was given on a motion by

Trustee Chester Ebert, head of the Sewer and Water Committee.

District 122 begins new school plans

NEW LENOX — The board of New Lenox School District 122 is making plans to meet the growing enrollment problem by building another school.

Conservative enrollment projections indicate that an additional 500 to 600 pupils will be enrolled in the New Lenox schools in the next three years, according to Supt. Arnold J. Tyler.

The proposed new school on a site in the southeast section would house 750 pupils, it was said.

To finance such a building program, it was explained, the district has $520,000 in cash, its share of the Caroline Bentley Estate. This amount is insufficient to meet the cost of building the proposed new school. The cost is estimated at $1,370,000, which means that it will be necessary to hold a referendum to get the public's approval of a $850,000 bond issue.

With anticipated increased assessed valuations of the district, a board spokesman said, it is anticipated that the proposed referendum will add very little to the declining school tax rate.

All classrooms in the seven schools of the New Lenox district are filled to capacity, according to Supt. Tyler, and many are over crowded, he added, with 38 to 40 pupils per room.

"The board of education, the administration, and the faculty are deeply concerned with overcrowded conditions," the superintendent said, "and feel this situation should be corrected as soon as possible in order to provide opportunities for quality education for all youngsters attending the New Lenox schools."

The board, administration and faculty, Tyler continued, are deeply grateful for the gift from the Caroline Bentley Estate. It will meet approximately 40 percent of the cost of the new school needed by the district. The remaining 60 percent, of course, will have to come from a bond issue.

Further and more complete details regarding the referendum will be published as soon as complete details are formulated by the board, it was said.

Each Christmas filed away as choice memory

FRANKFORT — An old fashioned Christmas was described to a representative of the Frankfort Area Historical Society in a recent interview with Mrs. Edith Lambrachet, who at 94 is the oldest native resident of Frankfort.

Christmas was definitely a family affair, she said. Traditionally, she added, her father, C. F. Baumann, went to Joliet on the "Dinky," to buy the Christmas tree. This was usually decorated with glass ornaments, candles in special holders and candies that were kept from year to year. Cookies and nuts also were used. On the Sunday before Christmas Mr. Baumann would wrap nuts in foil and use sealing wax from the railway office to fasten them.

Kitchen activities would begin the week before Christmas, with Edith's mother and older sisters baking molasses cookies that were hung in a bag behind the stove to keep them crisp. There were also animal cut-out sugar cookies, springerele and sweet bread with raisins.

Mrs. Baumann selected gifts for the children at Weinmann's store as soon as the Christmas merchandise came in. As Christmas drew near the feeling of excitement mounted.

On Christmas Eve the family attended church services, the girls wearing their new Christmas dresses. They returned home to discover that Santa Claus had arrived. Often her older brothers would also have gifts for the younger children. The happy, tired youngsters would then go to bed to rest up for the next day's festive activities.

Before opening their eyes, most of the family members would waken to the delightful smells and sounds from the kitchen. After church services they would come home to enjoy their dinner of roast ducks, or goose, pumpkin pie, cranberries and all the trimmings.

Each Christmas was filed away as a pleasant memory, to be enjoyed over and over as the years passed.

Pumpkin pie on Pilgrims menu

MOKENA — Some 80 first grade pupils at Carpenter Street School — all the first graders attend Carpenter Street — celebrated the Pilgrim's First Thanksgiving last Wednesday afternoon.

After helping themselves to pumpkin pie, nutbread and cornbread, the youngsters hunkered down on the gym floor alongside a long strip of colored paper that represented a table. Some of the children were garbed in Pilgrim fashion and some came as Indians.

Incidentally the pie, nutbread and cornbread were all baked at the school by the first grade teachers. Phoebe Baker, Roxanne Engel, Helen Ebert and a teacher's aide, Juda Frahm, with the physical and oral assistance of the first graders.

Third high on Dec. 16 ballot

ORLAND PARK — Voters in high school District 230 will be asked to approve a $9¼ million bond issue on Saturday, Dec. 16. If approved, the bonds will be used to finance construction of a third high school on the northwest corner of 171st Street and 92nd Avenue.

Superintendent William Fisher said he anticipated the student population center would begin to develop in this area which is now heavily farmland.

The district is presently served by A. A. Stagg High School at 111th Street and 80th Avenue, and Carl Sandburg at 131st Street and La Grange Road.

Fisher said the northern boundary line of the new high school would probably fluctuate yearly as new homes are built. A tentative line is presently suggested at 151st Street.

The money received from a successful passage of the referendum would also be used to build and equip an addition to each of the existing high schools, and to remodel each building plant.

Should voters approve the bond issue it would in effect empower the Board of Education to sell bonds and to use the money received from the sale for the stated construction. Repayment and interest would be met from the resultant increased property tax bills.

Fisher said however, "School building construction and the sale of bonds do have an effect on the tax rate; but the initial amount declines. It's a roller coaster effect."

Voting for residents living south of the Sag Channel will take place at Sandburg High School from noon to 7 p.m. Every registered voter is eligible to vote whether or not he has children in the school.

Mokena, Orland fill role in International

MOKENA — The rodeo held in conjunction with the annual Live Stock Exposition at the Chicago Amphitheater was a thrill to the audiences that viewed it and no doubt was a thrill to the winning performers who pull down cash prizes. It was also a lot of work for the working staff whose duties include getting the calves, the steers, the Brahma bulls, and the bucking horses into the arena.

You see, with the stockyards closed there are no longer any pens close by the Amphitheater to hold the rodeo stock and there are no pens available in the Amphitheater. So the rodeo stock is being kept on the K & J Ranch on Stuenkel Road, off U.S. 45, and transported back and forth by truck.

Last Saturday and Sunday when there were matinees a double haul was necessary as fresh stock is needed for each performance.

There are 15 saddle broncs, 15 bareback horses, and 15 Brahmas, 20 calves, an equal number of steers, six horses for the grand entry and two pick-up horses that are shuttled back and forth.

Maurice Whyte Jr., 179th Street, Orland Township, who has a Mokena mailing address, is one of the three owners of the Rodeo Cowboys Association, which is putting on the rodeo at the amphitheater.

The cowboys and cowgirls who compete in the roping events and the racing have to find accommodations of their own for their mounts.

Family nearly sweeps finale

SOUTHWEST — The 10th and final Crescent Newspaper football contest was a near family affair with Betty and Mike Spudwills of 7518 W. 170th St., Tinley Park, winning the first and second prizes.

The 10-week contest has been brought to HERALD readers by merchants from throughout the HERALD circulation area. There have been three winners each week of the $25, $10 and $5 awards.

Huskey says school funds major problem

ORLAND PARK — State Representative Herb Huskey of Oak Lawn told Orland Park Rotarians Friday noon that funds for public education is the single most important problem facing the Illinois General Assembly.

The club welcomed two new members Jack Bradley of the Moraine Valley Community College faculty and Sgt. Ed Peterson, traffic copier policeman of the Cook County Sheriff's Police.

Supt. Fisher outlines bond issue

PALOS HILLS — Building plans, construction costs, tax increases and projected enrollment of the anticipated third high school and its proposed $9,250,000 referendum were high discussed at length at Monday night's meeting of Consolidated School District 230 Board of Education.

Superintendent William O. Fisher, quoting enrollment figures, stressed the need for an additional high school within the district.

"Approximately 40 to 45 square miles of land in District 230 is still undeveloped," Fisher said. According to Fisher, District 230 is still undeveloped.

"Approximately 40 to 45 square miles of land in District 230 is still undeveloped," Fisher said. According to Fisher, that area is essentially farmland at the present time; when the land has reached its population potential, it will probably affect the student enrollment at all the district's schools.

Combined enrollment at Amos Alonzo Stagg and Carl Sandburg High Schools for the 1972-73 school year was 4,743; it is expected that by September, 1975, that number will be increased by more than a thousand. By 1979, projected figures indicate a total enrollment of 7,225 students.

The high school, which would be built on the northwest corner of 171st Street and 92 Avenue, will provide a brown bag lunch room, music department, locker areas, a girl's gym, special education and regular classrooms, a business education department and three laboratories in addition to the science department.

The school, Fisher said, would be very much like Stagg with some improvements on the design, such as a covered walkway in front of the building, rather than the usual open sidewalk.

Also, the superintendent suggested that instead of fire doors, perhaps a sprinkler system could be installed the length of the 40-foot mall. "Actually, it's cheaper," Fisher asserted, but added that it was not a definite part of the design at this time.

The plans, by Schmidt, Garden and Erikson Architects and Engineers of Chicago, also showed a library area, a commons almost a duplicate of that at Carl Sandburg, office space and art rooms. Three skylights would provide natural lighting over the upper level (second floor) mall.

Fisher said he is frequently asked what the school will be called. He answered

Fisher said he is frequently asked what the school will be called. He answered that is the policy of the Board of Education to name the schools after famous living American. At this time, he said, no names have been suggested.

Drawings presented Monday night were tentative. "These are over-all plans, and are still very general," board president John Daliego said. "But we hope to stay as close to these as possible, with probably some minor and perhaps a few major changes."

Superintendent Fisher acknowledged that passage of the referendum would affect taxes paid by area homeowners. Those with an assessed valuation of $10,000.00 will pay a maximum of $25 annually in additional taxes over a five-year-period, 1973-78 he said.

Past referendums include the original construction of the Sandburg school in 1952 and the original construction of Stagg in 1964.

In 1966, a $2½ million referendum for an addition to Stagg was approved; in 1968 $3.3 million worth of funding was okayed for work at Sandburg. Never in the history of District 230 has a referendum failed to pass voter approval.

Fisher rejected thoughts for alternatives if the financing fails to become a reality, calling such suggestions "backhanded threats." Instead, he said optimistically, "This one will pass, as the others have."

The 40-acre site for the school was purchased in 1958.

Polling places for the December 16 voting are Sandburg School, 131st and LaGrange Road, for residents south of the canal; and Stagg School, 111th and Roberts Road for residents north of the canal. Polls will be open from 12 noon until 7 p.m. All registered voters are eligible to cast a ballot.

In other action at the meeting, a resolution was passed to name four election judges to conduct the voting at each of the polling places. The judges would be selected from lists of persons interested; their names are submitted to the superintendent's office prior to elections.

Also at the Nov. 27 meeting, it was noted that bids would be accepted until next Monday for the construction of bleachers at Amos Alonzo Stagg High School. Board members agree that the bleachers should be constructed of steel, with aluminum seats. Bids for the work must be submitted by 3 p.m. Dec. 4.

Special session Monday to discuss referendum

ORLAND PARK — The Board of Education of Consolidated School District 230 has called a special meeting for Monday, Dec. 4, at 7:45 p.m. at the Carl Sandburg High School, 131st Street and LaGrange Road.

Purpose of the meeting will be to discuss the building plans, construction costs, increased taxes for homeowners and projected enrollments of the proposed third high school and its $9,250,000 referendum set to be voted on Saturday, Dec. 16.

At that meeting, District Superintendent William O. Fisher will explain the need for the school, its financing and design, and will answer questions concerning the issue from members of the audience.

It's my opinion

Land plan needs teamwork

(This opinion column is open to our readers, giving them an opportunity to submit articles on subjects of their choice. We ask only that the writer contact this office prior to submitting material in order that the article can be scheduled for publication. This article was prepared for Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission newsletter by NIPC director, Matt Rockwell.)

By MATT ROCKWELL

Land use policies proposed on the state and national level have become a very controversial issue. Some champions of home rule seem to regard any non-municipal role in land use decision making as an encroachment upon rights inherent to local government. NIPC staff members lately have dared to mention, to local audiences, a few of the land use ideas current to Springfield and Washington. Responses to this information have ranged from polite applause to a request for return of a contribution to NIPC.

So far, the 19 Commissioners who determine NIPC policy have not discussed the question of what role if any, should be played in land use decision making by the state or federal government. The comments in this newsletter are my own, and represent staff level thinking only.

First let me clarify what is meant by a land use policy. No one is talking about making land use maps in Springfield or Washington or at NIPC, to replace the village map with its green parks, yellow single-family, and orange multi-family in lot-by-lot detail. By contrast to such a map, or its parallel ordinance the first land use policy ever applied to the land which is now northeastern Illinois was the federal government's policy of moving the Indian Boundary westward as fast as settlers could follow.

It was federal policy to sell primeval forest for $1 an acre, for development into pioneer cornfields. It was federal policy to send the surveyors before the settlers, to lay out the real estate boundaries in a simple rectangular grid of township, range, and section lines. It was later state land use policy to use these grid lines for rural roads. The pattern remains in all the older urbanized portions of the region.

Three months ago, the Illinois Zoning Laws Study Commission recommended a complete package of state land use policies: House Bills 1805 through 1808. One of these policies is: "To encourage the construction and maintenance of a full range of housing opportunities so as to enable all persons working within the jurisdiction to reside therein."

Each village would have to zone for as many low and moderate income dwelling units as there are low and moderate income jobs in that village - one inexpensive place to live for the family of each locally-employed teachers, retail clerk, auto mechanic and bank teller. Nothing in this proposed state land use policy, if adopted, would specify which corner of the village map should be colored orange.

Are these policies needed on the state and regional level? Couldn't each local government simply solve its problems itself?

NIPC research has demonstrated that village governments can not afford to designate enough land for low and moderate income housing, or for large parks and forest preserves. Instead, the villages are under economic pressure to overzone for office-and-research, in hopes of attracting tax plums rich enough to pay for educating the children in the local school district. A village which loses this tax base zoning race against neighboring villages can find itself with only one-third as much money per pupil, although residents pay three times as high a tax rate. More extreme examples than this nine-fold school fiscal disparity exist in northeastern Illinois, even after state aid is included.

The state legislation which has been proposed would, be a long way in spirit from the federal legislation recommended by the Douglas Commission in 1968 that all land use control powers should be taken away from small municipalities in metropolitan areas and given to the counties. The two bills now pending in Congress, backed by the Nixon Administration also are comparatively mild. If adopted, they will provide federal grants to the states to help prepare land use policies which would assure "that local regulations do not unreasonably restrict or exclude development and land use of regional benefit."

The role of local government in land use planning would not be eliminated by the requirement of consistency throughout the hierarchy of government any more than the retail businessman is put out of business by the existence of the wholesale jobber, the importer, the manufacturer of the merchandise which the retailer sells, and the supplier of materials to that manufacturer.

Our levels of government, including the advisory regional planning agency, must function as a team. As a team, we must learn to make better land use decisions than we have made separately in the past; decisions which will stand instead of being overruled.

Instead of jealously guarding the jurisdictional boundaries of each unit, and agency of government, we need to use all the planning talent available on the local level as well as all the planning talent which NIPC and the state can spare toward local needs.

Our land use goals on every level of government must be to create the most livable communities which modern planning can design, instead of sacrificing the future to a tax gambit, or isolating ourselves from every family which makes less money than we do.

Must act now

Land purchases answer to problem

NORTHEAST ILLINOIS — Public acquisition of flood plains is an immediate flood control solution that can contribute long lasting and varied benefits to northeastern Illinois, according to a preliminary Wetland and Flood Plain Management document prepared by Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission (NIPC) staff.

The Wetlands report recommends that flood plain purchase be given precedence in the awarding of federal open space grants because of flood plains' multiple benefit potential in public use.

Unveiled before the NIPC Planning Committee Wednesday, Nov. 1, the report is to be reviewed in a joint session of the Planning and Intergovernmental Relations Committees.

By stressing flood plains for open space, the Wetlands report is emphasizing an objective of the Regional Open Space Plan to preserve green belts along creeks and streams for conservation and recreation purposes.

Flood plain acquisition received the report's top promotion because of its rank on a scorecard rating these water resource management objectives: minimizing flood damage, conserving surface water, conserving ground water and preserving open space.

NIPC Commissioner Mrs. Laura Pollak noted the timely completion of the Wetlands report and its relationship to the late August floods along Salt Creek in north east DuPage and Northwest Cook Counties. Salt Creek flooding prompted over $11 million in small Business Administration claims for property damage along the flood plain.

Larry Christmas, NIPC assistant director, said that Salt Creek overflow will continue to cause about $850,000 property damage per year to existing structures in the flood plain.

"We were fortunate the forest preserve district (Busse Woods) was already there," Christmas said. "If not, the remedies would be more expensive. Twenty-five years ago, $1 million would have bought the entire Salt Creek flood plain. Now it will cost us $26 million in patch-up costs just to safeguard existing development. How much better it would have been to protect the flood plain as public open space."

Open burning hot topic

QUESTION: How did restrictions on open burning come about?

ANSWER: Restrictions on open burning were first incorporated into the Environmental Protection Act by the legislature of Illinois, which also provided a mechanism for later modifications through the Pollution Control Board hearing processes. The Board adopted specific, detailed regulations - and exemptions - regarding open burning in 1971.

QUESTION: Why has open burning of trees, leaves and other landscape wastes been prohibited?

ANSWER: The Pollution Control Board - after extensive public hearings - determined that burning of landscape wastes endangers health by aggravating respiratory problems and promoting allergic reactions, that it causes fire hazards, that it adds to visibility problems for traffic, and that it destroys potentially valuable organic matter.

QUESTION: Burning is an accepted method for disposing of diseased trees. What do we do now?

ANSWER: The Pollution Control Board has made provisions for the burning of diseased trees and other landscape waste. This burning is exempted from the ban if an air-curtain destructor is used with an EPA permit.

QUESTION: What is an air-curtain destructor?

ANSWER: An air-curtain destructor is a simple device designed to help burn waste more completely, thereby reducing the amounts of smoke and ash released into the air. It is basically an open pit equipped with a blower.

Free press wins, loses

In our Nov. 15 issue we expressed our feelings about the public's right to a free access of information. The recent court decisions jeopardizing a reporters legal ability to protect his news source are of great concern to all members of the news media. Most important, these decisions directly affect every American who reads a newspaper, listens to a radio or watches television.

Recently in San Francisco the use of a search warrant by Palo Alto police seeking news photos in the office of the Stanford Daily, an independent student publication at the university, was declared illegal by U.S. District Court Judge Robert F. Peckham.

The search occurred in the on campus newspaper offices on April 12, 1971 shortly after police ended a sit-in at Stanford Hospital.

In a case believed to have no precedent, Peckham said, "A search presents an overwhelming threat to the press' ability to gather and disseminate the news."

Nothing was taken during the search. The action by police was strongly condemned by Stanford President Richard W. Lyman, Sigma Delta Chi professional journalistic society, the Associated Press Managing Editors Association and the American Society of Newspaper Editors among others.

Judge Peckham ruled that the third parties, the news media, not suspected of a crime, are entitled to greater protection under the Fourth Amendment, concerning search and seizure, than are suspects.

Peckham said, "It is the court's belief that unless the magistrate (issuing a warrant) has before him a sworn affidavit establishing proper cause to believe that the materials in question will be destroyed, or that a subpoena duces tecum is otherwise impractical, a search of a third party for materials in his possession is unreasonable and violative of the Fourth Amendment.

"Third party searches of a newspaper office are impermissible in all but a very few situations," he added. "A search warrant should be permitted only in the rare circumstances where there is a clear showing that important materials will be destroyed or removed from the jurisdiction and a restraining order would be futile."

It is the opinion of the HERALD that to stop short of this standard would be to sneer at all the First Amendment has come to represent in our present society.

If this unprecedented search of a newspaper's offices had been held constitutional, all news organizations would have run the risk of becoming little more than evidence collecting agencies for law enforcement officials.

We have an added note on Peter Bridge who was mentioned in the Nov. 15 editorial.

Bridge is a former reporter for the defunct Newark Evening News. At least three groups have started fund raising programs for the reporter whose attorney failed in his latest attempt to get his client released from Essex County jail where Bridge was incarcerated Oct. 4.

Bridge was charged with contempt for refusing to tell a grand jury all he knew about a bribe offered to a housing authority commissioner.

Among the contributors is the Chicago Tribune which chipped in $1,000. Clayton Kirkpatrick, Tribune editor, said Bridge was assuming a burden in behalf of all journalists by choosing to go to jail rather than surrender principles he believes to be vital to a free press.

On second thought

Early yule shoppers could be 'sooners'

By Glenn Logan

It's O.K. folks. Thanksgiving has come and gone and the Christmas shopping season is now officially open. One might even say it is legitimately open.

There has been some Yuletide shopping since Labor Day or maybe the Fourth of July but such shopping is looked upon as illegitimate. Some even refer to it as bootlegging.

Colleges, even high schools, are restricted as to when their athletes can start training for football, basketball and baseball and those who break the rule by making early starts are subject to penalties, some of which are even imposed.

Most people, of course, know that Oklahomans got their nickname of "Sooners" from the fact that numerous men bent on staking what they thought would be the best claims, successfully evaded U.S. troops and marshalls and crossed into Indian Territory before the big land runs, were officially started. For a long time now, Thanksgiving Day has marked the beginning of Christmas shopping season. Even before television many cities had parades, sponsored by the merchants, to launch the Christmas shopping season. The advent of radio gave this movement a big boost with its direct communication with old Santa himself, spang in his workshop at the North Pole. Television, of course, has brought the Christmas parades on Thanksgiving into full bloom.

In the early days of that medium when a lot of people jumped into the new business of television, a lot of them on a very slim bankroll, they would photograph anything that would move, especially if it was free. In those days even the Thanksgiving Christmas parades in the small cities got TV coverage and if the supply of cities ran out desperate TV crews went village hopping.

Now that TV has become affluent it has become quite selective and only New York, Philadelphia and Detroit Christmas shopping parades get national coverage.

Even the week before Thanksgiving street decorations heralding the approach of Christmas were in place in many communities. I don't know just how many shopping days are left before Christmas. You guess this has become a tricky question. At one time stores operated six days a week, except neighborhood groceries and drugstores who also remained open on Sundays to accommodate their customers.

But nowadays there are many department stores, even the big name stores, that stay open Sundays and many of them have evening hours too.

Used to be that stores catering to the Christmas trade started their evening shopping hours about two weeks before Christmas.

Now that some of the grocery stores have started staying open 24 hours a day it will not be surprising if other places of business do not follow their example.

So to state arbitrarily that there are X number of shopping days left before Christmas would probably be wrong. You know where you trade or are likely to go so make up your own list. Find out for yourself what days those stores will be open and gauge you list accordingly.

There are stores, of course, that remain open Christmas Eve for those last minute shoppers trying to find something for the man who has everything, but the selection of socks or ties may be slim by that time. If you wait until Christmas Day you will have to get to some drug store early and get him a cigar. But for your own sake and peace of mind for years to come don't wait too long to get HER present. Even if you don't admit doing that last minute bit she'll know in a glance whether it has been picked over or was fresh off the shelf.

If you have any farmer friends on your list never mind shopping. Just start praying for some sunshine and light winds to dry up fields enough to get in the soybeans and the corn. That would be the best Christmas present they could get.

Letters to the Editor

the Fence Post

Editor:

Again, Richard F. Kelly, Jr., in a desperate attempt to replace me as one of three State Representatives in the new 9th District, has caused to have sent in the mail and distributed to voters inflammatory, distorted literature. This includes a picture of an aborted fetus in a bucket and colored pictures of fetuses aborted during different stages of pregnancy.

It is lie to say that I would have supported legislation for an abortion "even till term depending only upon the wishes of the woman and the consent of a licensed physician" for I am on record supporting legislation permitting abortions for gravely impaired mental health reasons only up to 12 weeks, and to save the mother's life up to 20 weeks, under strict medical and hospital controls.

The voters of this District know that under the Illinois law it is legal for a woman to seek or to have an abortion, or even arrange for one. They know the law only makes it a crime for one to perform the abortion, or arrange for it (whether or not the woman is pregnant) punishable for 1 to 10 years in the State penitentiary. This is the only criminal law in Illinois that doesn't make the principal to the crime (the woman), if indeed it is a crime, punishable. She is free under the law, but denied medical protection.

I will reiterate again that I do not favor abortion, nor ever have. I only want to put the matter of abortion under strict medical control and not under the present hypocritical law. Present Illinois law is absurd in light of the fact that courts all over this country are striking down anti-abortion laws on the grounds such laws violate the rights of women under the Ninth and Fourteenth Amendments.

If Mr. Kelly and his "concerned-for-life" friends want to amend the law to make it a crime for a woman to have, to arrange or to seek an abortion, then they might, at least, be consistent. We know Illinois law does not deter abortions. The law encourages women to go to illegal butchers, especially the poor who suffer most, while the rich can go to New York or have abortions in hospitals under the guise of other medical procedures.

We are happy to announce a tremendous response of 215 adults participating in our classes this fall. This spring we will be offering many of the same classes plus a few new classes. This information will be presented in our spring and summer brochure.

Because of the large turnout of adults we have had to close most of our classes. The only class that is open is the square dancing class on Thursday, from 7-10 p.m. at the Tinley Heights School. Approximately 10 more people are needed to fill the class. We are learning quite a number of different dances that may not be associated with square dancing. We are having a lot of fun and enjoyment and we hope to see a few more people next week.

Thank you for your cooperation and support of the adult recreation classes and with your help, the people of Tinley Park, will have continued success.

The confused situation with respect to final accurate totals for the recent General Election of State Legislators appears likely to continue for several more weeks. Regardless of the outcome, I want to thank all those who have supported me with their campaign efforts, contributions, and votes. The media, in particular, were generous in carrying my viewpoints to residents of this legislative district and I am grateful for their courtesy.

I congratulate the winners. In our democratic process the voter determines who shall best represent him and our recent election offered an exciting opportunity to make that choice.

Tinley Plaza starts amid flurries

TINLEY PARK — As a wet snow blanketed the 60 celebrants and public officials groundbreaking ceremonies were held Saturday morning for the 50-store Tinley Park Plaza.

Undaunted by the unfavorable weather conditions, Dr. John Freedom, owner of the development, expressed hope that the shopping center will be open to "benefit the community in the spring of 1973."

Those attending the 11:30 a.m. groundbreaking included village officials, potential lessees and "others important to the realization of the shopping center's success in the area," Dr. Freedom reported. A luncheon at Crestwood Palace, 131st Street and Cicero Avenue, followed the ceremonies. Crestwood Palace owner George Trikolos, who is planning a second restaurant in the Plaza, was host for the luncheon.

The Plaza, on 25 acres facing west on Harlem Avenue from 159th Street to 163rd Street, will feature an A&P Store, Gordon's Interiors, Oak Drugs, Pat Harvey Women's Wear and a restaurant. The center will total 200,000 square feet and anticipates more than 50 stores. A savings and loan will locate adjacent to the north end of the center and bank will be next to the south end of the Plaza.

Included with the shopping center will be an ultra modern two-story medical facility containing a 24-hour pharmacy, labs, x-ray equipment and services of 30 physicians covering all medical specialties.

Dr. Freedom told the crowd, "The communities surrounding Tinley Park Plaza will be proud of their new shopping center. It is being built with their needs and wants in mind. The ancillary areas will be built with environmental concern. Landscaping, walkways, ease of egress and ingress will all be part and parcel of Tinley Park Plaza. As the center rises, we will accept suggestions and criticisms of the people in the community with an eye on making this a total ecological benefit, not only to shoppers, but to all people living in the surrounding villages."

"I am pleased with the cooperation and rapport we have had with Tinley Park officials," Dr. Freedom noted. "By working closely with local government," he continued, "we look forward to a shopping center in which the village can take pride."

Those interested in more information on the Plaza are invited to contact Michael O'Shea whose offices are at the site in the existing medical building.

Art show field trip

JOLIET — The YMCA will sponsor a trip to the McCormick Place Professional Artist's Show and Sale, Thursday, Dec. 7. The bus will leave the YMCA at 9:45 a.m.

The show is expected to be the largest indoor art show in the United States.

Attends state meet

TINLEY PARK — OAK FOREST — William J. Madden, president of the school board of Arbor Park School District 145, was among the more than 5,000 school board members and administrators from throughout Illinois who met in Chicago, Nov. 18-19, and 20 at the Joint Annual Conference of Illinois Association of School Boards and Illinois Association of School Administrators.

Meeting at the Sherman House, the delegates and members participated in 54 panel discussions relating to education. Business meetings and round table discussions were also held throughout the three days.

Joins band

OAK FOREST — Susan Trippel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Trippel, 6600 W. Forest View, plays clarinet in the University Band at Andrews University, Berrien Springs, Mich.

The band will participate with other music organizations there in presenting the annual Christmas program, Dec. 2.

Herald garners 'excellence' tag

SPRINGFIELD — The Orland Park HERALD, the Tinley Park Times HERALD and the Park Forest REPORTER, all members of the Crescent Newspaper family, were singled out this past weekend for awards in the 1972 Illinois Newspaper contest.

Sister publications, The Downers Grove Graphic Herald, the Bensenville Register Herald and the Wood Dale Register Herald also received recognition of the judges.

The Orland Park Herald was awarded the highest honor of those garnered by the Crescent Newspapers. The Orland weekly was given a second place ribbon and certificate for "General Excellence". The Orland paper was in the Division C classification, weeklies with more than 5,000 circulation.

The Libertyville Independent-Register was the first place winner in this category while the DesPlaines Suburban Times placed third and honorable mentions were awarded the Suburbanite Economist, Downers Grove Graphic Herald and Park Forest Reporter. Both the Downers Grove and Park Forest papers are sister publications to the Orland Park weekly. The Economist is another weekly circulating in the Orland Park community.

In awarding the second place ribbon to the Orland newspaper, the judges noted, "Like most of the Paddock (Crescent) newspapers we looked at, the Herald is extremely attractive; a bright, airy paper with superb pictures (particularly the full-page layouts). More than the other Paddock papers, though, the Herald is more comprehensive in its news coverage, making good use of devices for packaging the news. It also has a very fine editorial page."

The Tinley Park Times HERALD was presented its third place ribbon certificate for "Best Use of Illustrative Material". This is judged of pictures used, reader interest of same, relevancy to news stories, make-up and press work. The Tinley Park Herald competed in the Division B, larger weekly category, being topped by the Libertyville Independent-Register and the Wood River Journal.

A total number of 1,054 entries were entered throughout the contest.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER BY BOB HIRSCH

NEW! Advertisers know the word has impact. Almost magic appeal. A new service or product signifies, or at least implies new knowledge has been acquired. It is more abundant in our life time than in any previous era in history. Take for example the knowledge acquire in our life time than in any previous era in history. Take for example the knowledge acquired in transmission of sight and sound in TV, computerized information instantly available, the knowledge acquired in the landing of man on the moon, etc.

Smooth and fluent phrases lead people to believe man's knowledge in many things will make all things possible. Nothing seems impossible. Yet, with all this acquisition of knowledge, perilous problems of personal, family and social nature have increased. Personal discontent and unhappiness out-matches satisfaction and happiness for many people throughout the world. . . Why? . . . The reason was given centuries ago by Solomon when he wrote the last verse in Ecclesiastes: "For in much wisdom is much grief; and he that increaseth knowledge increaseth sorrow." . . . The Bible is right — again. . .

Radio problems knock crew out of competition

Our 928th TAG crew out of O'Hare Airport reviewing the scores.

(Editor's Note: HERALD Reporter Mary Straub with this article concludes her series on the Air Force Reserve's gunnery meet held earlier this year at Selfridge Air Force Base, Mich.)

By MARY STRAUB

When Col. Bill Hall and I arrived at the Marine section of Selfridge Air Base somewhat after 7:00 a.m., I was still sipping coffee from a styrofoam cup. The flight engineer of the dark green helicopter beckoned us aboard. We took our place with six male members of the AVS (Audio-Visual Service, AFR) crew who were also going to Grayling to watch and report on the fighter competitions. The fighters, A-37s were Cessna A-37B craft, nicknamed "Twenty-bird" by the pilots.

These planes were small and flat; I didn't have to stand on tiptoe to peer into their cockpit while they were still based at Selfridge. Also known as the Dragonfly, their maneuverability made it difficult for ground fire to hit them. And, they could carry armament equaling their own empty weight. We were looking forward to seeing them in action.

It was a beautiful sunny Tuesday morning; the air in upper Michigan was fresh and delightful. The copter was revving its engines, and once again we were given earphones to protect our ears from the noise. We were also told to don our Mae West. Our flight would carry us across Saginaw Bay, the "thumb" of Lake Huron.

Let's see — one pocket contained yellow dye to color the water so that rescue teams could see me floating along in my busy life jacket. In another pocket was shark repellent. Sharks! In Saginaw Bay? Oh well, it's all in a day's work.

We sat poised for take-off and as minutes turned into a half hour, my mind wandered to Grayling and I saw a sky swarming with those swift fighters — then, enter one Marine helicopter — ouch! Surely the Marines and AAF coordinate flights; meanwhile, why hadn't we taken off yet? The radio wasn't working.

Later, Larry Smith, AVS, reservist and Indiana disk jockey uttered aloud what I had been secretly thinking, "What's that about a woman on ship being bad luck?" Maybe I should have joined the WAAFs and gotten on their side.

Radio technicians appeared and began to service our radio, the next important thing after a copter's single prop. Col. Hall, our pilots and I hiked to the Officer's Club for lunch. The pilots were Capt. Bob Gauntner, Detroit, a medical representative for Eaton Labs, and Capt. Lou Stefan, Detroit, production control supervisor, Ford Co. From them I learned that the H46 Sea Knight we were to fly in was a Viet Nam veteran craft. It climbs 1,500 ft. per minute.

Sure enough, once this Sea Knight got clearance it went up and away in no time at all. But, unhappily we were stalled again by radio problems and had to land at Wurtsmith AFB in Oscoda, Michigan. We returned to Selfridge without seeing the A-37 fighter events.

It was 3:00 p.m. when we reached home base; the C-130 competitions there had just ended and everyone was waiting to hear the final scores. There they were! The winning Tactical Airlift Group was the 909th out of Andrews Airforce Base, Washington, D.C. Commander Col. Parrish had decided weeks ago that his base would excel. And so it did.

In second place was the 933rd TAG of Mitchell Field, Florida. Col. Hoppel was in good spirits. And coming in third was the 928th TAG out of O'Hare International Airport in Chicago — the crew that had brought me here and would be flying me back home shortly.

By now the skies were billowy grey and black. A fog was settling down and by late afternoon the rain began. I dashed back to my room and packed my bags; the plane was due to arrive for me at 6:30 p.m. I confess that I had had such a great time here at Selfridge as guest of the Air Force that I was beginning to hope that the weather would prevent our take-off and force me to stay another day. But, soon the roar of an engine was heard and then a shadowy, immense form touched ground and taxied to a boarding point.

With regret and sincerely fond farewells I climbed into my own C-130. As I was the only passenger on her, I adjusted to my VIP position. Once airborne I joined the men in the cockpit. We were at 21,000 feet above the storm and violent turbulence that was hitting Michigan and Chicago.

The clouds, like cotton batting stretched across the heavens making a soft horizon at the edge of which the sun shown red and orange. It was a special attraction.

Back in the ship I decided to nap, and lay on an empty seat. As all C-130s are, this one was quite noisy; I didn't hear anyone approach, I just felt a presence. I looked up to see one of the crew reaching over my head to a hook from which hung — a parachute! I'm going to have to jump? I sat petrified while he placed the chute next to me and began to unfasten the clasps.

I wanted to object, "No, I won't do it. You'll probably have to push me out, you know." When the metal clasps were set aside, he patted the chute with his hand, indicating that I should use it for a pillow! Relieved and grateful, I dropped over shaking with giggles. The flight was without incident in spite of the nasty weather conditions; O'Hare could not be seen until we were nearly on top of her and ready to land.

It was the end of the trip for me, but it was three days that I will remember. Thanks, all you guys in blue and khaki! You're all winners.

Titans won season opener in tourney

TINLEY PARK — The Titan basketball team started out the same as last year by winning one and losing two in the Plainfield Thanksgiving Tourney. Tinley Park High School beat conference rival Stagg, but lost to host Plainfield and Yorkville. The difference between last year and this, is the Titans opened red hot and fizzled out last year. But this year they were slow at first, losing the first two and winning the last one.

Tinley looked bad losing but came on strong to beat a tall Stagg team. The Titans may have come of age so it still is not known how good the Titans really are.

Terry Shannon has been scoring well, and some of the other players have had their moments. This should be a banner year for the Titans as this year's team has plenty of talent.

The seniors and juniors were on Tinley's best freshmen teams. Now, if the talent comes out the Titan cagers should challenge for the last Southeast Suburban Crown.

Sandburg tankmen split opening meets

ORLAND PARK — Last Tuesday, the Carl Sandburg High School Swim team opened its season on a sad note by losing to a tough Oak Park team, 55-40.

The Eagles did have some bright spots in the meet as sophomore Al Gillberg won the 200 and 400 yard freestyle events for the Eagles. David Prosen, also a sophomore, swimming varsity for the Eagles showed promise by winning the 200 yard individual medley and the 100 yard freestyle.

The Eagle tankmen are gifted with two fine divers is Jim Mantell and Ray Zabelski, as they finished one-two in diving against Oak Park.

Later in the week, the Eagle tankmen came to life against the Thornwood Wildcats as they drowned the Wildcats 55-40 at Carl Sandburg.

Al Gillberg turned in another strong performance for the Eagles as he won the 200 and 400 yard freestyle. Dave Prosen also did a fine job as he won the 100 yard breaststroke and the 200 yard individual medley.

Other Eagle winners in the individual events were Gary Stephens in the 100 yard butterfly and Don Huffman in the 100 yard backstroke.

In the team events for the Eagles, Don Huffman, Jeff King, Gary Stephens and Jim Adame combined to win the 200 yard medley relay. Mantell wrapped things up as he took a first in diving.

Coach Al Gillberg said, "The boys have a long way to go but should do very well." Coach Gillberg also said that Homewood Flossmoor will be the team to beat this year and will play a big factor in the outcome of the Eagles' season.

The Eagle tankmen's record now stands at 1-1. The Eagles will try to improve this record Friday night, Dec. 1, against Rock Island at home beginning at 7 p.m. Then Saturday afternoon, the Eagle tankmen will entertain Moline with the meet starting at 1:30 p.m.

The Sandburg sophomore swim team has had a bit more success this year as the soph's have won both of their

Heelan takes first in YMCA contest

OAK FOREST — Ed Heelan, Oak Forest, a member of the Harvey YMCA swim team, took first place in the 11 and 12 year old division in the team's first swim meet of the season Nov. 18. In total score, the boys defeated the girls team 180 points to 160.

Heelan did the backstroke 40 yards in 32.2 seconds.

meets against Oak Park and Thornwood.

Against Oak Park the Eagle sophomore's cruised to an easy 55-40 victory. Jim Henry, Ed Morz and Ken Koldenhoven combined to win in the medley relay for the Eagles.

Ken Koldenhoven also won in the 200 yard individual medley and 100 yard Butterfly. The Eagle sophomores then smashed Thornwood's sophomores 79-15 later in the week. Every Eagle swimmer took a first in each event except in the 100 yard butterfly where they had to settle for third and fourth places.

IGA takes OYA lead

ORLAND PARK — Last week in Orland Youth Basketball IGA edged out Orland State Bank 19-18. Winning coach Fred Branwolt said, "Both teams played well in a hard fought defensive battle."

Paul Kuchkenbecker was high scorer for IGA with seven points. Don Latura of IGA contributed four points and played well on defense. Mike Melton, Rich Wascher and Larry Schultz combined for IGA's other eight points. With this win IGA is in sole possession of first place with a 3-0 record.

Later in the week, Plaza barber shop posted its first win in three games by beating Terry's Lincoln Mercury 34-27. Coach Sandy Smith said, "The boys

Eagle matmen pin Richards in initial meet

ORLAND PARK — The Carl Sandburg High School wrestling team opened its season in flying colors last Friday as it thumped Richards 37-12 at Richards.

At 105 pounds, Eagle matman Mark Butz pinned his opponent. At 112 pounds, Mike Bronson and Denis Fitch won their matches 11-0 and 6-4 for the Eagles.

Other Eagle winners in that meet were Mike Everett at 167 pounds, Joe Canny at 132 pounds, Russ McGill at 138 pounds, Joe Franks at 145 pounds and Mark Erickson at 185 pounds. Coach Don Schultz said, "I don't know how strong the team is yet, but the boys are really doing a fine job."

The Eagles second test of the year came the next morning on Saturday, Nov. 25, when the Tinley Park Titans came to wrestle at Sandburg. In the heavyweight matches for the Eagles, Russ McGill breezed by with a pin, Joe Franks fought for a 3-0 win, Mike Prespetero held on for a 7-5 decision, and Mark Erickson, at 185 pounds, stuck his opponent for a pin.

Coach Schultz was not only pleased with the varsity play, but was pleased to see that not one freshman or sophomore wrestling team has lost a meet so far.

Coach Schultz thinks Evergreen Park and Homewood Flossmoor will be the teams to beat if the Eagles want to take conference this year.

When asking Coach Schultz if there are any boys who have a good chance of going down state he commented, "Senior Mark Butz at 105 pounds also Mike Bronson, a senior, at 112 pounds, and seniors Mark Erickson at 185 pounds and Russ McGill at 138 pounds all have very good chances."

The Eagles next meet is Friday night at Carl Sandburg against Downers Grove starting at 7 o'clock. The Eagles will then wrestle Bloom in a triangular meet Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

The Sandburg sophomore and freshman wrestling teams, both 2-0, have excellent chances of finishing on top of their respective divisions. The sophomore team is coached by Terry TerHaar and the freshmen by Ernie Pederson.

Arthur Miller, Bremen Township supervisor, said, "In my 11 years of service to the township, I have seen and been associated with a number of new projects. The township officials, the town Board of Auditor's and I are extremely proud of this new project and will devote our efforts to the theme of the project, that of aiding our senior citizens."

Specific topics to be covered include how to form a local group, set group goals, conduct meetings, recruit new members and develop leadership in others.

Dangerous substance

SOUTHWEST — Carbon monoxide from automobile exhausts is odorless, colorless, tasteless and very poisonous. It is a particularly dangerous gas because it drives out the oxygen in the bloodstream. A large amount can kill you while a small amount causes dizziness, headaches, fatigue and impairs muscular coordination.

This air pollutant is particularly damaging to persons with emphysema, chronic bronchitis or other respiratory diseases. Further information on the health effects of pollution, may be obtained by calling the Chicago Lung Association, 243-2000.

TINLEY PARK-OAK FOREST — A traditional Christmas scene will be brightened by the crayons of hundreds of students in suburban schools during December as part of the annual Bangle Day observance of the Christmas Seal campaign.

Local schools participating include Laramie School in Oak Forest, and Tinley Heights, Kirby and Fernway Park Schools in Tinley Park.

On Bangle Day, small double-barred crosses are given to school children with educational materials on air pollution, cigaret smoking and various respiratory diseases. Used around the world, the cross has become a global symbol of the Christmas Seal movement and its worldwide efforts against lung diseases.

This year's Bangle Day coloring sheet illustrates one of the scenes from this year's Christmas Seal and carries a rhyming message of health information for use by elementary students. Upper grade students receive educational material on lung diseases, fighting pollution and the effects of smoking on health.

Bangle Day is sponsored by the Chicago Lung Association (formerly The Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook County) to help students develop good health habits and learn how to protect themselves against respiratory diseases.

Christmas Seals also provide school education programs. Breath of Life

The 1972 Seal campaign, conducted by Chicago Lung Association, runs through December with a goal of $1,175,000.

What makes a home warmer in winter and makes it cooler in summer?

Insulation. The better your insulation, the less heat you lose in winter. Your heating system doesn't have to run as often or as long to keep you warm.

The same insulation that helps you keep heat inside in winter helps keep it outside in summer. Even if you don't have air conditioning, insulation puts a barrier between you and the heat outside. If you have air conditioning, you'll find it doesn't have to work nearly as hard to keep you cool.

What is proper insulation? Recommendations vary with the type of construction. With electrically heated homes, we recommend the equivalent of 6" in the ceiling, 4" in the walls, and 2" in the floor. In all cases, the better the insulation, the more efficiently the heating and cooling system will operate.

If you're building a new home, check with your builder to see that you're getting the maximum insulation for your living space. If you feel your present house is under-insulated, an insulating contractor or supplier can show you how to improve it. Besides living in greater comfort all year 'round, you'll save money—and help conserve energy. And that's important today!

Santa's knee proves ample

TINLEY PARK — Perky cherub faces were in abundance last Thursday at the United Methodist Church Women's Christmas Bazaar. This was the first appearance for Santa Claus in Tinley Park this year and Santa's knee proved a satisfactory resting place for many little people.

Mothers and grandmothers, along with their frightened two year olds, bewildered three year olds, jubilant four year olds, and skeptical five year olds, enjoyed eating, whispering secrets to Santa and browsing through the display rooms.

The meal was quite tasty and pleasantly served at attractively decorated tables. The display rooms held countless homemade articles that presented thoughts for that extra little gift at Christmas time.

Some of the items, like the empty bleach bottles turned into piggy banks, showed a great deal of imagination, and yet, probably did not take much time. Another item of interest consisted of scraps of material and padding made into an arm caddy for needles, scissors, etc., for 'arm-chair sewers.'

Christmas stockings and centerpieces, baked goods, knitted hats, towels, stuffed toys, ornaments and other novelties were all for sale at reasonable prices.

One of the most popular rooms was the nursery care room. Some of the tots cried, some laughed and some were even seen playing. However, Lulu Anfield, Tinley Park's most qualified baby sitter, maintained full control.

President of the Women's Society, Mrs. Kenneth Sherman, was busy working behind one of the display counters as were other members not handling the kitchen detail. It was a lovely bazaar and indicated a great deal of work on the part of all the members.

TCC presents Christmas concert

SOUTH HOLLAND — The music organizations at Thornton Community College are preparing a Christmas concert to be presented at 4 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 3, in the Interim Theatre, Building 21, on the Interim campus.

The program will begin with the Thornton College Singers, garbed in festive sixteenth century costumes, singing the traditional carols of "Caroling, Caroling," "The Wassail Song" and "Angels We Have Heard on High." Miss Dimpna Clarin is the director of the Thornton College Singers; Vicki Spiloto and Gary Jensen are accompanists.

The TCC Wind Ensemble, under the direction of Donald Kramer, will then present a varied program, including the contemporary "Entrada Festiva" by Nystedt and a Gershwin Medley for band arranged by Bennett. The band program will conclude with the traditional Christmas selection, "Sleigh Ride," by Leroy Anderson.

The Evening Chorale, composed of adults from throughout the district, will begin with excerpts from two Bach works: "Sicut Locutus Est" from the Magnificat and "Beside Thy Cradle Here I Stand" from the Christmas Oratorio. They will also perform the Appalachian carol by John Jacob Niles, "Jesus, Jesus, Rest Your Head," Dr. J. Albert Kindig is the director and Gary Jensen is the accompanist.

The Concert Choir, under the direction of Dr. Kindig and accompanied by Mrs.

Frieda Reynolds, will continue the concert with sacred selections.

The concert will conclude with a performance of "Gloria in D" by Antonio Vivaldi, sung by the Choral Union and accompanied by Chamber Ensemble. Local featured soloists will be Miss Nancy Wandland, Mezzo-soprano, of Oak Forest. She is a former TCC student and is currently a junior at Roosevelt University. The Chamber Ensemble consists of students, faculty and professional musicians from throughout the Chicagoland area.

There is no charge for the concert.

Bus may service Senior Citizens

BREMEN TOWNSHIP — The possibility of furnishing a bus service to shopping centers and to doctor's offices was discussed at a recent meeting of the newly organized Bremen Township Senior Citizens Organization, Inc.

The Organization meets at 7 p.m. the first Monday of each month at the Bremen Township Administrative Building, 16361 S. Dedzie Ave., Markham.

Those attending the November meeting included James Dolan, Arthur Miller, Elmer DuBois, Eugene Hug, club president, Henry Hagan and Eugene Winston. Mrs. Mae Moss represented Mrs. Ruth Moore of the Tinley Park Senior Citizens Club.

During the meeting it was reported that $2,500 was transferred from the Township to the Interstate Bank of Oak Forest for the Bremen Township Senior Citizens Organization, Inc., account.

A committee was appointed to review a suggestion by Arthur Miller, township supervisor, to contact local newspapers to arrange to have a special column for senior citizens.

Miller also mentioned at the meeting that not all senior citizens are aware that they may be eligible for the Food Stamp Program. A survey may be made throughout the township to inform those who qualify.

After many complaints from senior citizens that they had encountered some difficulty with absentee voting due to the necessity of a doctor's statement, Miller suggested that the Organization request State Representatives to review the law governing absentee voting.

The Bremen Township Senior Citizens Organization, Inc. is open to anyone 55 years of age or older.

What could be more fun than being a kid with your own log cabin to play in? Three children will soon find out what it's like to be a homeowner when Sender Realty, 16555 S. Winners need not be present.

My turn

Is the grass really greener?

Having six, 10 or more than a dozen children was a practical thing to do for the pioneers who settled the suburbs a century ago. A quarter of all newborns were dead before they reached their 25th birthday; life expectancy hovered around 45 years.

Without today's conveniences everything that needed to be done was done by members of the family — and everyone was expected to do his share.

Families were close-knit and life revolved around the home. Children attended school only when they weren't needed at the farm. Mother took over most of the responsibilities for educating her offspring. A typical scene was a woman sitting and reading to her children before bedtime.

Today, a large portion of suburban residents are transients — not quite "here today, gone tomorrow" but close. At the end of a year, two or three they are off to another community or even another state.

The suburbs simply reflect what is happening all over the United States. The greener grass on the other side of the hill keeps people hopping from job to job, town to town, as they strive for the affluent life.

Family ties are diminished with each move. Life-long friendships are difficult to maintain when hundreds of miles separate the individuals.

Where the "more the merrier" attitude towards children existed 100 years ago, today a large family is economically burdensome. A study made by the Institute of Life Insurance in the late 1960s estimated that the cost of raising a child to age 18 was $23,835 for a family with an annual income of $6,600. With a college education increasingly essential and the cost of living rising daily, this figure must be considered extremely conservative compared to what it costs to raise a single child today.

The pioneers would have a difficult time functioning in today's world or being comfortable with today's lifestyle. But then probably few from this population would choose to lead the life of 100 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. David Wilson, 366 Kingston Drive, and their children enjoyed their Thanksgiving holiday with Mrs. Wilson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Buckhan of Chicago.

According to Mrs. Wilson, the highlight of the visit was viewing the films her parents took during their extended trip to Europe this year. Their three-and-one-half month stay included visits to England, France, Sweden, Norway, Greece, Scotland and Morocco.

There will be a general meeting of the Frankfort Square Homeowner's Association on Thursday, Nov. 30, at 7:30 p.m. at the Arbury Hills School.

This meeting is an important one; a conclusive report will be given by chairman William Reid of the Safety and Security Committee. Although no vote will be taken on the issue, it is imperative that all residents are present to hear the report, and to acquire a first-hand knowledge of the facts on community safety and security.

Babysitting services will be provided. Please note, however, that mothers of small babies are asked to provide a few small toys, such as rattles, and an extra bottle of nursing formula and additional diapers for the child.

In addition to the Safety and Security Committee, there are two other committees that have been formed. They are a By-laws Committee and a "Welcome" Committee. Association president David Wilson is calling for volunteers to serve on all three committees.

Also, volunteers with experience in carpentry work are needed to help build a bus shelter for the corner of Greenfield Lane and St. Francis Road. The materials for the shelter have been donated by the Hoffman-Rosner Corporation; men interested in the construction of the shelter should contact David Wilson at 469-3321.

Postmasters announce basic holiday pointers to insure safe delivery

Postmasters of Frankfort, Mokena, New Lenox and Manhattan, who are getting ready for the annual holiday rush, have outlined 10 basic pointers for the public to follow to assure prompt and safe delivery of their Christmas cards and gifts.

1. - Mail before Dec. 15.
2. - Use Zip Code numbers and separate letters in separate cities, as well as local and out-of-town bundles.
3. - Address fully and clearly. If your writing is scratchy, print. Do not use abbreviations of street names, since they lead to confusion.

4. - Pay the 8-cent letter rate of postage on Christmas cards and letters; and use the new 8-cent Christmas stamps. Be certain a return address with zip code is on Christmas cards and parcels, preferably in the upper left hand corner on the front. This will prevent undeliverable mail from ending up in the dead letter office. It will come back to you.

5. - Do not enclose coins or hard objects of any kind in letters or cards. Cancelling machines cannot process, such mail, and often damage the envelope and contents.

6. - Do not mail money in Christmas gifts, cards or letters. For safety's sake make use of postal money orders or personal checks or drafts.

7. - Make certain that parcels are well packed and securely wrapped in strong containers. Cushioning material, such as excelsior, shredded newspapers, or tissue paper should be evenly and firmly placed on all sides of the Christmas gift. The carton should be wrapped in heavy paper and tied with strong twine. The postmasters also stressed the importance of an extra label on the inside of the package in addition to a list of the contents. Both will assist, if necessary, in making proper delivery.

8. - Gifts of a delicate nature, such as glass, china, electrical appliances, radios and musical instruments, must be marked "Fragile," by the mailer. Food stuffs should be marked "Perishable," if subject to spoilage.

9. - Insure parcels. Register letters of real value. Where only proof of delivery is required for letters of no intrinsic value, use Certified Mail. Use "combination mail" where a letter or message, other than a gift tag, is to be enclosed inside a Christmas package.

10. - Mail Christmas cards and parcels early to avoid the last minute rush and waiting in line at the post office. The best times to avoid crowds at the stamp windows in the area is before 11 a.m. and between 1 and 3 p.m.

At the local library

There's more to it than books

By SHEILA SHUNKO

MOKENA — The Mokena libraries were well represented at the "Invitation to the Inter-Library Cooperation Workshop, held at the College of St. Francis in Joliet Wednesday, Nov. 22.

Miss Elaine Rechker, Mokena Community Library, Mrs. Bridget Tonra, volunteer from the St. Mary School library and Mrs. Sheila Shunko, Mokena Grade school library and a trustee of the Community Library, attended the sessions on how to provide the best possible library service for the community.

Library service includes more than the circulation of books. More and more libraries have become involved in audio-visual. The school libraries deal not only in books, but films and film strip media.

The Community Library offers large print books, special books for handicapped, recordings, sculptures, paintings and cassettes.

"If you know of a handicapped person or home-bound person, please contact the library for library service," Miss Rechker asks. "The telephone number is 479-9663. Should you have any questions concerning library service in the schools or the public library feel free to contact someone listed above. Our libraries in Mokena are a cooperating operation and will be glad to be of service to you," the librarian concluded. The Mokena Community Library trustees at their last meeting expressed their gratitude for the enthusiasm shown by the newly formed Friends of the Library.

The pre-school story hour and the Community Library calendar of events, and many other activities are well under way. The next meeting of the trustees will be held at 7:30 p.m., Dec. 11, earlier than usual because of the holiday season. The public is invited to attend these meetings which are held in the library.

News-briefs

NEW LENOX — "J.B.," a modern morality play by Archibald MacLeish, based on the Biblical book of Job, is to be given at Lincoln-Way High School Jan. 12 and 13.

It is an all-school play and will be directed by Miss Susan Michels, assisted by Alek Denoff, also a member of the faculty. The selection of the play last October led to casting, scenery and costume designing, which all has totaled up into a lot of hours.

There are still a lot of hours of rehearsal before curtaintime. The play centers on a businessman who is faced with what seems to him to be unreasonable problems and disasters. The cast includes Greg Denckla as Mr. Zuss; David Whitaker, as Nickles; John Pytel, as J.B., and Sheree Tuttle as Sarah. Other members of the cast are Greg Cannedy, Sandra Olney, Lester Merkle, Tina Reithmaier, Terry Estell, David Ellis, John Carney, Paul Glowiak, Tina Bowie, Lee Sienknecht, Audrean Benson, Pat Cowan, Debbie Ragono, Debbie Adkins, Debbie Mosner, Also, Bob Reed, Rich Bledsoe, Pat Mooney, Jim Smith, Annette Sons, Jeff Foose, Tom Brown and Tina Weiss.

MOKENA — Three members of the Mokena grade school board and three of the administrative staff were among the 5,000 attending the joint annual conference of the Illinois Association of School Boards and the Illinois Association of School Administrators at the Sherman House in Chicago.

The delegates and members participated in 54 panel discussions covering such topics as: Fundings—federal, state and local; recent legislation and court decisions; human relations; career education—goals and values; hiring practices and Civil Rights Acts of 1964; issues affecting school district organization; action goals for the 70's; applying the Tenure Law; desegregation; due process and collective bargaining.

In addition to the panels, business meetings and round-table discussions were held throughout the three days.

Representing Mokena District 159 were Supt. James Ennis, Principals Gene H. Morrall and Fred A. Kieslar, and board members, Willard Barenzm Cadet Cottingham and Fremont Warning.

FRANKFORT — John Nordsell, 209 Center Road, was recently honored for 25 years of service with the Northern Illinois Gas Co.

Nordsell, a crew leader working out of the NI-Gas Crestwood office, was honored at the company's annual service recognition dinner given in the Lancer Restaurant at Schaumburg.

He is a member of the Thursday night men's Bowling League here. He and his wife, Marian, have six children, Mrs. Ruth Boteler, 22, John, 21, Bob, 19, Don, 17, Steve, 14, and Sandra, 12.

FRANKFORT — The K & K Concrete, Inc., of Frankfort and New Lenox Township, has been sold to Meyer Material Co., of Des Plaines.

K & K formerly operated by the Kohlhaugen family of Frankfort was acquired by Brown and Lambrecht, earth movers. Its office is on Gougar Road.

K & K had 38 ready mix trucks in operation with its plant on Center Road, at Frankfort. Meyer Material will continue to operate the Frankfort plant, according to Paul Lambrecht.

Meyer Material operates more than 300 ready mix trucks in more than a dozen locations, including Des Plaines, Naperville, Aurora, Elgin and other northwest area communities.

FRANKFORT — A gas tank caught fire Friday instead of exploding, thus saving parents of four youths' considerable money in hospital or funeral bills. The quartet was turned over to their parents by Frankfort police.

Officer Ronald Smith said one of the youths — they are in the 12 and 13 year old range — ignited a stick and pushed it into the gas tank on a 1969 station wagon on the Cooper-Show lot on Kansas Street.

Fortunately for the boys, the report states, the gasoline burned instead of exploding.

Firemen were called and used an extinguisher to smother the blaze.

FRANKFORT — Harold Sclocum, 221 Nebraska St., a retired engineer and an officer in the Frankfort Chamber of Commerce, has purchased the building owned by Neatus Wilson at 21 Ash St. The consideration was not disclosed.

The building, which houses several businesses on the ground floor, has bowling lanes on the second floor. Wilson has a 10-year lease back on the bowling alleys and will continue to operate them for the present.

The Frankfort Automotive Co., the Centron, Inc., and the Travel Kitchen Co. occupy the first floor. There was a buffing firm also located there operated by some Mokena people but that has moved out.

Leagues from Frankfort and Mokena use the bowling lanes at Frankfort. Since the lanes at New Lenox were closed most of the bowlers there make use of Joliet alleys.

ARBURY HILLS — Wives of members of the Arbury Hills Lions Club have formed a Ladies of the Lions Chapter, it was announced by those in charge.

Many statutes regulate dogs, their owners

CHICAGO—The dog, traditionally man's most loyal friend and companion, has a loyal defender and guardian under the Illinois law which both protects and regulates the life of the canine, according to the Illinois State Bar Association.

To keep track of the increasing dog population (Chicago alone has 68,000 dogs registered, only a small portion of the statewide population), the law provides that an owner must have a license for his dog.

The license fee is $1 for each male or sterilized female dog and $3 for each unsterilized female dog. The owner is then given a metallic tag which states the home county, license number and date of issuance. The tag must be affixed to a collar around the dog's neck.

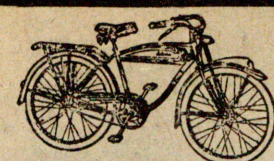

Another important regulation to which dog owners must adhere is the annual rabies shot for dogs four months old or older. After this procedure, the dog receives another certificate and a serially numbered tag which should also be attached to his collar for permanent identification.

According to Illinois law, a dog found running at large without evidence of the rabies inoculation may be impounded by authorities. If there is no other identifying tag on the animal, the rabies inspector is required to hold the dog at least seven days to give his owners an opportunity to find it.

To get the dog back in their possession, owners must pay for the dog's rabies shot, $1 penalty and the board of the animal for the time it was impounded.

Teaching a dog good manners is of utmost importance to an owner since the latter is liable for his dog's transgressions. Thus, if the animal happens to attack or injure some peaceable and unsuspecting person, it's the owner who may be liable.

This same ruling holds true for the dog's relationships with other animals. According to the law, an owner is liable if his dog pursues, chases, worries, wounds or kills any sheep, goats, cattle, horses, mules, poultry or swine belonging to another person. The damages can become rather costly if the dog is an aggressive type, and to date no dog has been exonerated for his actions because of an unfortunate home environment.

Westhaven organized

State Jaycees to install chapter

WESTHAVEN — Leonard Corcoran, a marketing consultant for the Equitable Life Insurance Co., will be the feature speaker for the charter night banquet of the Westhaven Jaycees Saturday, Dec. 2.

Dinner is at 6 p.m. followed by the charter presentation with dancing from 9 until midnight.

Corcoran has an active background in the Jaycees. Starting in 1964 when he first became a member of the Wilmette Jaycees, he was the state winner of the "Spoke Award". 1965 marked his presidency of the Wilmette Jaycees, becoming state vice-president, Illinois Jaycees, in 1967. He was named the "Outstanding Vice-President" in that year.

A JCI Senatorship was awarded to Corcoran in 1968 while serving as national director, U.S. Jaycees. He was also named an "Outstanding National Director". Corcoran's Jaycee activities were highlighted when he was a candidate for the presidency of the Illinois Jaycees. Other awards included "Outstanding Ambassador Award", "Jaycee of the Year Award", and many others. Corcoran resides in Wilmette. Master of ceremonies for the evening will be Kenneth Ewald, national director, U.S. Jaycees. Ewald will present the Westhaven Jaycees with their state and national charters. He will install the charter officers and members.

Lorin Schab will be installed as president of the new Jaycee Chapter. Other officers include internal vice-president, John Shimkus; external vice-president, Raymond Soto; secretary, Steve Siezega; and treasurer, David Cook. David Aldous and Richard Woodruff are to be directors. Kenneth McCracken is the state director. Marvin Chandler will fill the post of chaplain.

Charter members consist of the above and Gary Akers, Rick Bolden, Robert Haack, Stanley Haptas, Owen McEneany, George Mulcahy, Robert Multon, James O'Brien, William Pressler, Melvin Sheppard and Gregory Wachowiak.

The Leyden Township Jaycees, who extended the Westhaven Jaycees, will be represented by Kenneth McCracken, president, and Cecil Hubbard, executive vice-president. Regional and state officers of the Illinois Jaycees will also be in attendance.

The Westhaven Jaycees conducted a Community Attitude Survey as their first community involvement; a "Get out and Register Campaign" was preceded by a "Get out and Vote" drive to make the citizens of Westhaven aware of their obligation to themselves and their community.

A Halloween Party was the first activity for the Westhaven children. The Spoke and Speak-up programs are underway for the members. A toy demonstration held at the Orland Chateau was the first fund raising program.

The immediate future brings a commercial Christmas show for all the Westhaven children. The yuletide season will be climaxed with a Christmas house lighting contest, and a group orientation open to all the young men and their wives Dec. 18. A sleigh ride will open the new year.

The Westhaven Jaycees have adopted a well planned program of events, supported by a $3,000.00 budget for the current fiscal year.

Salaries receive okay

OAK FOREST - TINLEY PARK — Salary increases for administrators were approved Tuesday night at a special meeting of District 228 school board.

The increase is retroactive to July 1, 1972. Increases for teachers and other personnel have been worked out at prior board meetings. Administrative salaries were the last pay increase to be considered.

Argument among board members had resulted in lengthy meetings and a committee had been formed to keep the administrators informed of the board's action.

The raises amount to an average 5.98 percent increase in annual salary, which also affects the salaries of the five District 228 schools.

Phil McBain, principal of Oak Forest High School, will receive an increase of $1350 for 1973, making his new salary $25,600.

Tinley Park High School principal Ted Nelson will receive $24,850, an increase of $600 over the salary he received under this year's contract.

District 228 Supt. John M. Flynn's salary is $33,971, which was approved on a previous contract.

Willie L. Saxton recently accepted the B.F. Goodrich President's Cup Award for excellence in retailing. Saxton, 12815 S. Western Ave. store manager, received the award for outstanding personal performance and operational excellence. Saxton is a recent graduate of the B.F. Goodrich store manager academy in Akron, Ohio.

South Palos line fails to gain MSD approval

PALOS — On Tuesday Nov. 14, W. J. King, president of the South Palos Twp. Sanitary District advised that the Metropolitan Sanitary District has not approved the south section of the sewer system; south of 131st street; due to excessive leakage.

Walter Wilson, district engineer reported that one cracked pipe has been replaced and 12 elbows repaired. He further advised that the Glenview Sewer and Water Co. has two crews operating television cameras to find leaks to be repaired. He estimated that it will take two to three weeks to complete these repairs due to the recent rains.

A final jet water test will be made which will also flush out the system. Then it will be ready for another inspection by the Metropolitan Sanitary District. The north section, north of 131st, will be checked for leaks also, and repaired.

Patrick Lucansky, district lawyer, reported that a meeting was scheduled with Commissioner Harrison of Cook County, on connection fees, for Nov. 17. Results will be reported at the next meeting.

King further advised that all future meetings will be held at the residence of Rudy Wick on the southwest corner of 129th Street and 82nd Avenue. The office will be located at the same address and will be open when the Metropolitan Sanitary District approves the system. The next meeting is scheduled for Tuesday Dec. 12 at 8 p.m. All meetings are held on the 2nd Tuesday of every month.

ROMEOVILLE — The Wilmington High School Wildcats took the first place honors this past weekend in the Romeoville Round-Robin Thanksgiving Tournament.

The Spartans were given second place standing.

In the kickoff game of the tournament, The Oak Forest High School Bengals ducked to the Elmwood Park Tigers 46-43. Oak Forest had entered the third quarter of play with a 35-33 lead. Heading the Oak Forest scoresheet for Friday's game was Chuck Lilly with 118 points.

In the second game of the Friday night billing, the Wildcats moved to a 60-49 victory over the Spartans.

Playing top-notch basketball for the Wilmington squad were the Van Duynes, Keith and Kent, who scored 15 and 16 points respectively. Top scorer for Romeoville was Chris Strobbe with 16 points.

On Saturday, the youthful Bengal team bowed to the Spartans in a 52-41 decision in the afternoon but came back during evening play to top Wilmington 67-58.

Meanwhile, Elmwood Park lost both of its Saturday games, going down to Wilmington in the afternoon 52-43, and losing to Romeoville in the evening 38-32.

In the Romeoville-Oak Forest competition, Lilly was again high pointman for the Bengals, riding the charts with 12 point total. Top scorer for the Spartans was Strobbe with 15 points.

The Van Duynes each managed 1 points to be top scorers for Wilmington against the Tigers.

Junior Steve Kovalcik was high scorer for Romeoville in its evening meet with Elmwood Park. Kovalcik hit the basket for a 12 point total.

Lilly led the Bengals in scoring for the match with Wilmington, attaining points. Keith Van Duyne was ahead for Wilmington with an 18 point tally.

The Bengals, limited by the newness of the school to a sophomore level, took third place status for the tourney.

This Friday the Spartans visit Maria Catholic High School to open Illinois play. Oak Forest will host Joliet East High School on Saturday.

PALOS HEIGHTS — The Providence High School Celtics traveled to Palos Heights on three occasions this past weekend and finally returned to Norwalk with the consolation championship for the 33rd Annual Private School League Basketball Tournament.

The Thanksgiving week tournament gave Providence a 2-1 status for the season to date.

The Celtics lost to Chicago Christian High School in Tuesday's opener 56-49. In Friday's competition, the Celtics squeezed through to victory by topping Luther South High School 55-54. And finally on Saturday, the Providence squad clinched the consolation honor by a 67-46 win over Walther Lutheran High School.

According to Providence Coach Sullivan, Tuesday's loss to Chicago Christian was decided in the second quarter of play. Sullivan pointed out the fact that his Celtic squad held the scoring edge in every other period, but could not bounce back from the 2-0 scoring lead Chicago Christian managed during the second quarter.

Sullivan also explained that he was on the CC side for the Tuesday game. Two Chicago Christian players hit the 6-7 mark on the rule while standing up straight. Sole raft scratcher for the Celtics is sophomore Len Branchaw who stands at 6-4.

Ruling the score sheets for the Celts in the game were junior Roy King with 21 points and junior Percy Mabry with 10 points.

In Friday evening's meet with Lut South, the Celts were down by se points with one minute and 10 seco remaining in the game.

"The kids really played men basketball," said Sullivan in explaining his team's 70 second journey to the final 55-54 win. "We stopped the clock w

Grabbing the ball on the rebound, Ralston galloped the full length of the court and swooped in the basket for the winning difference of one point.

King had scoring honors for the game with a 19 point total; following Branchaw with a 16 point tally.

Sullivan assessed "balanced scoring" as the ingredient which provided winning flavor at Saturday's opening of Walther Lutheran.

Scoring big for the Celtics were I with 19 points, Mabry with 12, Branc with 13, and John Buchanan with 1

"We blew it open between the second and fourth quarter, and four minute marks in the fourth quarter," Sullivan said. During the fourth quarter, Providence created five turnovers and managed to score on four of them.

CHICAGO — Commonwealth Edison Company's 1972 outlay for environmental control facilities will come to approximately $85-million, according to Edison Chairman J. Harris Ward in a review of the utility firm's continuing environmental improvement program.

He said the 1972 expenditure will increase Edison's investment in such facilities to just over a quarter billion dollars and added that the company will spend $325-million more for air and water quality control systems over the next five years.

Of the approximately $575-million to be spent for environmental control facilities by the end of 1972 Ward said, about $160 million relates to providing cooling lakes and other water control systems at six generating plants. At its coal-fired plants the company has installed two demonstration sulfur removal systems and is installing or improving electrostatic precipitators on all coal-fired units not due for early retirement.

Ward said another big factor aiding Edison's environmental effort is the increasing amount of kilowatt-hours being generated by the company's new nuclear units.

"Our five operating nuclear units at Dresden and Quad-Cities stations will account for close to 12 billion kilowatt-hours or about 22 percent of our estimated 1972 electricity production," he said. This means that clean nuclear energy this year alone is displacing about six million tons of coal on our system. By 1980, when we have a total of 13 nuclear units in operation, we will be able to produce half of our power from these clean sources, Edison's commitment to nuclear power is now over $9-billion."

VILLAGE OF FRANKFORT

ORDINANCE NO. 785

An Ordinance Providing For Regulation Of The Manufacture, Establishment, Installation, Use And Operation Of Emergency Reporting Equipment, Burglar Alarm Systems, Telephonic Alarm Systems And Any Electric Or Electronic Devices Or Systems Which Utilize Wire Service, Telephone Wires, Or Radio Wave Lengths Or Any Other Means Whereby Contact Or Communication Is Made To Authorized Police Reporting Systems, Radios or Telephones And Establishing Fees For The Installation, Use And Maintenance Of Any Such Emergency Reporting Equipment.

WHEREAS, an urgent need exists for regulating the use of the various types of emergency reporting equipment that are now being used to report emergencies to the Lincoln-Way Police Communications Center which is the sole receiving station for emergency reporting equipment in or about the Village; and

WHEREAS, the experience of the Village and the Lincoln-Way Police Communications Center during the past two years with recorded messages and burglar alarms sent by automatic protection devices clearly establishes that a high percentage of the messages and alarms are false alarms that take both manpower and equipment out of service, thereby endangering the community; and

WHEREAS, it is in the best interests of the citizens and residents of the Village than an ordinance be enacted regulating the use, operation and maintenance of said emergency reporting systems and providing fees therefor and that such an ordinance will promote the health, safety and welfare of all residents of the community.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED BY THE PRESIDENT AND BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE VILLAGE OF FRANKFORT:

SECTION ONE. DEFINITIONS.

1.1 For the purpose of this Ordinance the following terms have the definitions herein ascribed to them:

Automatic protection device. An electrically operated instrument composed of sensory apparatus and related hardware which automatically sends over regular telephone lines, by direct connection or otherwise, a prerecorded voice alarm or other alarm signal upon receipt of a stimulus from the sensory apparatus that has detected a physical force or condition inherently characteristic of a fire or unauthorized intrusion.

Communications Center. The Lincoln-Way Police Communications Center to which this Village subscribes for its complete emergency police reporting system and police intercommunications.

Direct Line. A telephone line leading directly to the communications center of the Police Department that is for use only to report emergency messages and signals on a person-to-person basis.

Key (to a telephone line). To use a telephone line for transmitting a message, either by direct connection or by a mechanism not so connected that utilizes the microphone of a standard telephone to do so.

Person. Any individual, partnership, corporation, association or society, but such term does not include the Village of Frankfort.</ unlawful to manufacture, install, operate or assemble any electrical control board or signaling device designed to be used as a burglar alarm system, unless such manufacture, installation or assembly is supervised by the communications center or police inspector. Any such board or signaling device not manufactured or assembled in the Village shall be inspected and approved by said police inspector or the chief of police as a prerequisite to granting a permit.

3.2 Permit. No electric board, signaling device or control system, covering burglar alarm devices connected with the communications center or police department shall be installed without the permission of the communications center.

3.3 Approval of plans. Any corporation, person or individual servicing any commercial or industrial establishment with such system shall submit said plan to the chief of police or the communications center, and such system shall be controlled and operated through the central control board, owned and operated by the communications center.

3.4 Installation. The installation of any such alarm on any premises in the Village shall be installed under the supervision of the chief of police and the communications center.

3.5 Enforcement. The chief of police is hereby empowered to enforce the provisions of this Ordinance to the end that the said system may be unified and operated through one control board.

3.6 Operation. The communications center shall decide all questions arising as to the use and operation of such systems, through the electric control board of the communications center.

3.7 Fees. Before permission is granted to any person, or persons, for the installation of a burglar alarm system, the installation and service fees shall be paid in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance to the communications center.

SECTION FOUR. OPERATIONAL REQUIREMENTS.

4.1 No automatic protection device or telephonic alarm system that is installed after the effective date hereof by any person on premises of any kind in the Village shall be keyed to a primary trunkline.

4.2 After the effective date hereof, any alarm equipment supplier who installs automatic protection devices or telephonic alarm systems for the purpose of sending prerecorded emergency messages directly to the police department shall first obtain necessary instructions, including a designated telephone number, from the communications center in order to key such devices to a special trunkline into the communications center.

4.3 Within sixty (60) days after the effective date hereof, all automatic protection devices or telephonic alarm systems that were keyed on that date to a primary trunkline shall be disconnected therefrom. The owner or lessee of any such device shall be responsible for the disconnecting of it.

4.4 An owner or lessee of an automatic protection device or telephonic alarm system who has it disconnected as required by this Section, may authorize an alarm equipment supplier who has a temporary permit or a license, as required by this Ordinance, to key the automatic protection device to a special trunkline into the communications center, provided that the device meets operational requirements, as set forth in this Ordinance or as required by the communications center.

4.5 After the effective date hereof, no one except an alarm equipment supplier with a temporary permit or a license from the village, as required by this Ordinance, shall install any automatic protection device or telephonic alarm system or key the same to a special trunkline.

4.6 By the tenth of the second calendar month after the effective date hereof, every alarm equipment supplier who has keyed any automatic protection device to a special trunkline shall furnish the communications center with a current list of such installations, showing the following:

- Name, residence address and telephone number of owner of lessee.
- Address of place where device is installed and telephone number at that location.
- Name and telephone number of any other person at a different location who is authorized to respond to an emergency and open the place where the device is installed.

Within ten (10) days after the end of each quarter following the last month included in the initial list, every alarm equipment supplier shall furnish the communications center with a supplemental list of any such additional installations that he has keyed to a special trunkline, along with any corrections or deletions.

4.7 Automatic protection devices or telephonic alarm systems installed on premises of any kind that are keyed to a special trunkline shall meet minimum operational requirements, as follows:

- The content of the type of recorded message to be transmitted by such device must be intelligible and in a format approved by the communications center concerned as appropriate for the nature of the alarm.
- No recorded message shall be delivered to the Police Department more than three times as the result of a single stimulus of the sensory mechanism.
- The length of time for transmitting the recorded message must not exceed fifteen (15) seconds.
- The time gap between delivery of each recorded message must be in the range from ten (10) to twelve (12) seconds.
- Such device must be capable of transmitting an alarm message to two or more recipients, so that upon installation, any message will be sent not only on a special trunkline, but also on the line of an authorized person having a key to the premises who is available to respond to an emergency.
- The sensory mechanism used in connection with such devices must be adjusted to suppress false indications of fire or intrusion, so that the devices will not be actuated by impulses due to transient pressure changes in water pipes, short flashes of light, wind noises such as the rattling or vibrating of doors or windows, vehicular noise adjacent to the installation or other forces unrelated to genuine alarms.
- All components comprising such a device must be maintained by the owner or lessee in good repair to assure reliability of operation.

4.8 Each alarm equipment supplier that sells or leases to a person an automatic protection device which is installed on such person's premises after the effective date hereof, and which is keyed to a special trunkline, shall furnish that person with instructions as to the way the device operates, along with a maintenance manual and a correct circuit diagram pertaining to such device.

4.9 Each alarm equipment supplier, as referred to in 4.8 above, shall also furnish the communications center with a copy of the instructions as to the way the device operates, along with a maintenance manual and a correct circuit diagram. If the communications center finds such to be incomplete, unclear, or otherwise inadequate, he may require the alarm equipment supplier to have the same revised to meet the communications center's approval and then promptly distributed to persons for whom installations of such devices have already been made as well as to persons for whom installations are henceforth made.

4.10 Each alarm equipment supplier that sells or leases to a person an automatic protection device which is installed on such person's premises after the effective date hereof, and which is keyed to a special trunkline, must offer service, directly or through an agent, on a twenty-four hour basis, seven days a week, to repair such device, so as to correct any malfunction of same that may occur.

4.11 At the time of installation, each alarm equipment supplier shall furnish to the person for whom an automatic protection device has been installed, written information as to how service can be obtained at any time, including the telephone number to call for service; and such person shall be responsible for having the device repaired as quickly as possible after he learns, either from his own sources or from notification by the communications center or any member of the police department, that the device is not working properly.

4.12 When messages evidencing failure to comply with the operational requirements herein set forth are received by the communications center and the chief of the department concerned concludes that the automatic protection device sending such messages should be disconnected in order to relieve the burden of responding to false alarms, he is authorized to demand that the owner or lessee of such device, or his representative at the place where it is installed, disconnect such device until it is made to comply with said operational requirements. If disconnection of the defective automatic protection device is not accomplished promptly by such demand, and the chief of the department concerned determines that one malfunctioning device is repeatedly sending false alarms in succession without any intermittent valid alarms, he may then take whatever steps are necessary to disconnect the defective automatic protection device.

4.13 For the purpose of enforcing the provisions of this Ordinance, the communications center and the Chief of the Police Department shall each have the authority, at reasonable times and upon oral notice, to enter upon any premises to inspect the installation and operation of an automatic protection device or signaling device, the purpose of which is to report an emergency to the communications center or the police department, either directly or through an intermediary.

SECTION FIVE. ALARM EQUIPMENT SUPPLIER.

Each alarm equipment supplier engaged on the effective date hereof in selling or leasing and/or installing automatic protection devices for keying to a special trunkline or an operator trunkline shall apply for a license on a form to be furnished by the communications center. Such application shall be filed within twenty (20) days from the effective date hereof. Any person who desires to become an alarm equipment supplier and who proposes to key automatic protection devices either to a special trunkline or an operator trunkline, shall first apply for a license on a form to be furnished by the communications center. Each application shall be signed by the individual proprietor of such business or by a partner or authorized corporate official, as appropriate for the type of business organization, and shall include the information required by the communications center and submit the fee required herein.

SECTION SIX. LIABILITY OF VILLAGE LIMITED.

The Village and communications center shall take every reasonable precaution to assure that alarm signals and prerecorded alarm messages received by the communications center or Village are given appropriate attention and are acted upon with dispatch. Nevertheless, the Village and the communications center shall not be liable for any defects in operation of automatic protection devices and signal line systems, for any failure or neglect to respond appropriately upon receipt of an alarm from such a source nor for the failure or neglect of any person with a license issued pursuant to this Chapter or with a franchise, in connection with the installation and operation of equipment, the transmission of alarm signals and prerecorded alarm messages, or the relaying of such signals and messages. In the event that the Village or communications center finds it necessary to disconnect a defective automatic protection device or signaling device, then neither the Village nor the communications center shall incur no liability by such action.

SECTION SEVEN. PENALTIES FOR VIOLATION.

Failure of any person to comply with the requirements of written notice of a violation of any provision hereof within three days of receipt of such notice, exclusive of Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays, shall constitute an offense punishable by a fine not to exceed Two Hundred Dollars ($200.00). Such notice shall continue in force and effect until full compliance with the requirements stated therein, and each and every failure to comply with such notice within twenty-four (24) hours after the three days allowed for compliance shall constitute a separate offense.

SECTION EIGHT

Should any section, paragraph, sentence, clause, or phrase of this Ordinance be declared unconstitutional or invalid for any reason, the remainder of said Ordinance shall not be affected thereby, and shall remain in full force and effect, and the same shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this Ordinance.

SECTION NINE. FEES.

9.1 Each application for permit to install a telephonic alarm system shall be accompanied by an installation fee in the amount of Twenty Dollars ($20.00). And, as a condition to granting a permit to maintain and operate said system, an annual fee in the amount of Sixty Dollars ($60.00) shall be paid in advance for each year of operation of said system.

9.2 Each application for permit to install burglar alarm system, automatic protection device, or a signaling device which utilizes a signal line to activate an indicator on the central control board located at the communications center shall be accompanied by an installation fee in the amount of Twenty Dollars ($20.00). And, as a condition to granting a permit to operate and maintain such a device or system, an annual fee in the amount of Sixty Dollars ($60.00) shall be paid in advance for each year of operation of said system.

9.3 Each application for a permit or license for an alarm equipment supplier shall be accompanied by a fee in the amount of Twenty Dollars ($20.00).

9.4 Failure to pay annual operation fees on or before the first day of January in each year shall result in disconnection of the burglar alarm system, automatic protection device or signaling device from the control panel at the communications center after the expiration of fifteen days from the date such permit holder receives written notice from the communications center of his failure to pay said annual operation fee, or in the case of telephonic alarm system operational fees, any such system shall be disconnected and removed by the permit holder within fifteen days from the date notice of such failure to pay is received by the permit holder.

SECTION TEN. FALSE ALARM FEES.

10.1 In the event that more than three alarms are received by the communications center from a permit holder under the terms and provisions of this Ordinance, during a one year period which are determined by the Chief of Police or communications center to be due to human error, mechanical difficulty or in any way a false alarm then and in that event, such permit holder shall pay a fee in the amount of Ten Dollars ($10.00) for the fourth such false alarm during any such one year period, and for each additional false alarm thereafter in any such one year period an additional fee of Twenty-Five Dollars ($25.00) per false alarm shall be paid by such permit holder to the communications center.

10.2 All fees provided for by this section shall be paid within thirty days from the date a bill hereof is deposited in the regular U.S. mail with postage fully prepaid and addressed to the address set forth in the permit holders application. Failure to pay any fee provided by this section shall result in disconnection of any alarm or device regulated by this Ordinance.

SECTION ELEVEN.

This Ordinance shall take effect from and after passage and publication as provided by law.

Builder to proceed in Homer

HOMER TOWNSHIP — Royal Faubion, president of Continental Homes of Chicago, said last week that his company will go ahead in the construction of single family homes near 143rd St. and Parker Road.

Rezoning was denied Wednesday on a request by the builders that 60 acres of the current Holmes property be changed from F-1 (farming) to either R-3 (multiple family residential) or B-1 (business). Rezoning was granted to Continental for 149 acres to allow single family dwellings.

However, under zoning laws, construction of single family units would have been allowed under an F-1 classification.

Faubion, former president of Kaufman and Broad Homes, told the HERALD, "We're going to start in with the single family dwellings." Under Continental's original plan, the single family units would have been the first to be built, followed by the multi-family units and finally by a small "convenience" shopping center. The single family units will be built south of 143rd St. and west of Parker Road.

Construction is scheduled to begin next May or June, according to Faubion.

As to whether he plans to try again for the R-3 and B-1 zoning, Faubion said there was a possibility his company would either go to court or back to the Will County Zoning Board of Appeals. At the zoning board hearing held Sept. 7 at Homer Town Hall, about 200 residents of nearby Chickasaw Hills and Spring Creek Woods showed up to protest the development. Homes in the Continental development would average about $28,000; homes in Spring Creek and Chickasaw Hills run in a price range upwards of $50,000.

"It's seldom that you get an exclusive area where you can build only 60,000 homes," said Faubion. He said another developer was planning on coming into a similar area near 131st St. and Derby Road in Lemont Township.

Faubion said no federally subsidized housing would be built in his development.

Vic Photos, president of the Homer Township Taxpayers' association, said he considered the denial of the multiple family and business zoning a victory for the homeowners in the area. "As far as I'm concerned, we won," he said. "We were trying to stop the R-3 and B-1 zoning."

"Faubion may still build his single family homes. But he'll be loping off about half his profit," he said. Photos called the R-3 and B-1 classification the "money-makers." He estimated that with the two other classifications, the development would have grossed $32 million. "Without the R-3 or B-1, the gross is cut to about $14 million," he said.

"If Faubion is carrying out some kind of vendetta against this area, he's wrong," said Photos. "He's not going to affect Spring Creek or Chickasaw Hills with single family dwellings."

"He had a great scheme to make some money. But with construction costs and the cost of improving that property, he won't be making much on single family dwellings," said Photos.

"Why would he want to build a big subdivision in this area? If a guy is making $10,000 a year, he's not going to want to live at 143rd and Parker Road. He'll want to live close to an expressway. But out here? Here you have to drive five miles for a pack of cigarettes or a loaf of bread."

Photos said it was better that the county board had approved the R-1 zoning rather than deny it with the others. He said if the R-1 zoning had been denied, it would leave open the possibility of a court suit that might possibly have allowed all three zoning changes.

The county zoning board of appeals had previously recommended that all three zoning requests be turned down. However, the zoning and subdivision committee had favored the R-1 change. By a vote of 16-9, the county board decided to follow the committee.

Robert Kiep, chairman of the zoning and subdivision committee, had explained to the board that his committee had disagreed with the zoning board of appeals because Continental can already build single family dwellings under the farm zoning.

"We feel that the R-1 is more restrictive than farming since Continental has many more uses under the farming," Kiep said, adding, "the court will look upon us in a more favorable light with us not being so bullheaded about it."

Still $1999.*

A bargain is a bargain.

While you can see the Beetle is still at a nice low price, you really can't begin to see the value until you know what you're getting for your money.

A warranty, for instance, that's twice what you get with any other small car: 24 months or 24,000 miles.

But then, we wouldn't be offering it if it weren't for our incredibly finicky factory inspection: over 1100 inspectors poring over more than 5,000 parts. (It sounds compulsive, but it's the best way to reach perfection.)

And now, there's our new VW Computer Diagnosis system. Meaning literally what it says: a brand new computer that's been installed, or soon will be, in our service area ready to be hooked up to your car.

The most advanced service system in the world, it checks vital service parts, via sensors and probes built into critical areas, and spells the results out in plain English.

Consider also our legendary resale value. When you compare it with other cars after three years, it makes our $1999* sound absolutely amazing.†

Everything adding up to one important point: there's a big difference between being cheap, and being a bargain.

*1972 Volkswagen Sedan III suggested retail price P.O.E. Local taxes and other dealer charges, if any, additional. Volkswagen of America, Inc. If an owner maintains and services his vehicle in accordance with the Volkswagen maintenance schedule any factory part found to be defective in material or workmanship within 24 months or 24,000 miles, whichever comes first (except normal wear and tear and service items) will be repaired or replaced by any U.S. or Canadian Volkswagen Dealer. And this will be done free of charge. See your dealer for details. †Source: 1969 manufacturers' suggested retail prices and 1972 average used car lot retail prices as quoted in NADA Official Used Car Guide, Eastern Ed., June, 1972.
